Lucy's family had to move away, and they couldn't take her with them. They tried to find her a new home, but no one wanted her. Lucy was so sad and lonely. She didn't understand why her family didn't want her anymore.

One day, Lucy was sitting in the park, all alone. She was so sad that she started to cry. Suddenly, she heard a voice.

"What's wrong, little dog?" the voice asked.

Lucy looked up and saw a beautiful angel standing in front of her.

"I've lost my forever home," Lucy said sadly.

"I know," the angel said. "I've been watching you. You're a good dog, and you deserve to be loved."

"Can you help me find a new forever home?" Lucy asked.

"I can do better than that," the angel said. "I can grant you one wish."

Lucy thought for a moment. She could wish for anything she wanted: a new family, a new home, a new toy. But then she had an idea.

"I wish that all the dogs in the world who have lost their forever homes could find new ones," Lucy said.

The angel smiled. "Your wish is my command," the angel said. "From this day forward, every dog who has lost their forever home will find a new one."

And so it was. From that day forward, every dog who lost their forever home found a new one. And Lucy? She found a new forever home, too. She was adopted by a kind family who loved her very much. Lucy was so happy to have a new forever home, and she was so grateful to the angel for granting her wish.

The end.

This heartwarming story about a little dog who lost her forever home and the special wish she made is perfect for children of all ages. It teaches children about the importance of adoption and giving animals a second chance. This book is sure to become a favorite bedtime story for years to come.
